Carl Rogers' commercial real estate and business practice encompasses local and regional transactions representing developers, lenders and major corporations. He has a broad base of experience and is routinely involved in acquisitions, financing and development of apartment projects, shopping centers, office buildings, mixed-use developments and telecommunication tower sites.

Representative services to his clients include:

- Representing landlords and tenants in the drafting and negotiating of lease documents for retail, office and industrial properties.
- Handling general corporate, partnership and limited liability company matters.
- Advising on condominium projects, homeowners associations and zoning and land use matters.

Prior to joining the firm, Mr. Rogers was a member with Grant, Kuyk & Rogers, PC.
