

TAX

Our experienced team of tax lawyers and professionals works skillfully and diligently to represent public corporations, closely-held businesses, high net-worth individuals, and other taxpayers at the international, national, state, and local levels.

Our tax attorneys and professionals – a number of whom are also Certified Public Accountants – regularly address diverse client matters including on a big picture basis or subtle deviations and details of multiple tax systems.

We provide sophisticated tax planning for businesses, and individuals across a range of transactions and situations, working to reduce taxes while not only complying with increasingly complex tax law but also seizing available opportunities under the tax codes. And, when tax controversies arise, we're skilled at representing corporate entities and individuals in tax audits, appeals, and litigation.

Our group regularly publishes articles on tax issues in noted journals, lecture on tax matters to other attorneys and professionals, and have served as in-house tax counsel with corporations and accounting firms.
