Gaskins Quoted in The Herald

04.2013

Charleston Employment Member Brandon Gaskins was quoted in The Herald on April 6, 2013. The article discusses the question of who will get to build a new hospital in Fort Mill between Rock Hill's Piedmont Medical Center and Charlotte-based Carolinas HealthCare System. Administrative Law Court Judge Phillip Lenski ruled in favor of Carolinas HealthCare, allowing its attorney, Gaskins, to question Daniel Sullivan, a health care consultant hired by Piedmont.

Gaskins asked Sullivan if reputation was one factor affecting market share. Sullivan said, "yes."

"What kind of reputation does Piedmont have?" Gaskins asked, resulting in another objection from Piedmont attorneys. Lenski again ruled for Carolinas HealthCare.
