Moore & Van Allen earned the title of Large Firm division winner for the 2018 Legal Feeding Frenzy, becoming the Frenzy's only six-time division champion. The firm raised 71,000 pounds of food in support of the food insecure families across the state of North Carolina. Attorney General Josh Stein will recognize all division winners during an awards ceremony at the N.C. Bar Center on April 25.

Moore & Van Allen's internal campaign efforts were led by Intellectual Property Members Marianne Fuierer and Tristan Fuierer in the Research Triangle office and Litigation Associate Jared Nobles in the Charlotte office. The combined efforts of both offices will help support food insecure families assisted by the Food Bank of Central & Eastern North Carolina and the Second Harvest Food Bank of Metrolina.
