Real Estate Member Elected a UNC Chapel Hill Trustee

08.2013

Charlotte Real Estate Member Jefferson (Jeff) W. Brown was elected by the University of North Carolina Board of Governors to serve on the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill's Board of Trustees. Brown was sworn in on July 25, following a day and a half of orientation. His current term of service is from 2013 to 2017.

Brown currently serves on the Board's Finance & Infrastructure Committee, working with other committee members in connection with the University's budget, revenue and expenses, information technology, buildings/grounds and campus master plan, architect/designer selection, and campus security, among other matters. Brown also currently serves on the Board's Innovation & Impact Committee, working with other committee members to provide support in areas such as research, entrepreneurship, technology transfer, licensing, economic development, early stage funding and industry relations.
