On the Floor

Senate - Organizational Session

This week the South Carolina Senate met in Columbia to organize, elect leadership and make committee assignments for the 2013-2014 legislative session which will begin on Tuesday, January 8, 2013. John Courson (R- Richland) was reelected President Pro Tempore. Harvey Peeler(R-Cherokee) will remain the Majority Leader and Nikki Setzler(D-Lexington) will serve at the Minority Leader.

The Senate also adopted its rules for the coming session, including new rules to speed up the body's ability to consider legislation. Each Senator will now only be able to object to three bills on the calendar at a time. Previously, one Senator could object to an unlimited number of bills which prevented them from being debated. Additionally, the Senate voted to limit the amount of time a Senator can spend introducing a new bill.

In Committee

Senate Finance Committee

The Senate Finance Committee added new members this week to fill vacancies. The new Senators are: Tom Davis (R-Beaufort), Ray Cleary (R-Georgetown), Paul Campbell (R-Berkeley), Joel Lourie (D-Richland), Robert Ford (D-Charleston), and Kent Williams (D-Marion).

Haley's Short List for Senate

This week, CNN reported that Governor Haley has narrowed her choices to 5 individuals that she is considering for appointment to replace Senator Jim DeMint. DeMint made a surprise announcement that he is stepping down to take over the leadership position at the Heritage Foundation. Haley has also announced that she will not consider a "placeholder" who would be expected to step-down and not run for a full-term. The special election for the seat will be held in November 2014. The reported 5 finalists are: Congressman Tim Scott (R-Charleston), Congressman Trey Gowdy (R-Greenville), former Attorney General Henry McMaster, DHEC Director Catherine Templeton and former First Lady Jenny Sanford.
