

HEALTH CARE LITIGATION

Our group draws on its decades of experience to guide our clients through all stages of the dispute process. We are known for the insightful, but always practical, representation that we provide to all of our regional and national clients, which include hospitals, health care systems, physicians and physician practice groups, group purchasing organizations, and healthcare technology companies.

Our group handles litigation, regulatory, intellectual property, labor and employment, and other commercial issues for our clients. With our diverse experience, our team handles all levels of representation, from pre-trial and regulatory investigations to complex trials in state and federal courts. We anticipate problems and draw on the experience of our colleagues in related practices to provide a strategic, layered approach and proactively develop solutions. Whether your matter pertains to an employment dispute, generic pharmaceutical litigation, or biosimilars, our knowledgeable team is ready to help guide you through the process.

As health care continues to be a focus of plaintiffs and regulatory agencies, our team is often called on to handle matters related to civil and criminal FCA matters, the Stark Law and Anti-Kickback Statute, Medicare reimbursement and third-party payments, internal investigations, government agency investigations, and labor and employment disputes.
