MVA Members John Gilson and Mike Miller co-authored the article titled, "A Look Under The Hood Of Independent Sponsorship In M&A." The article was published by Law360 on February 18.

The article

The presence of independent sponsors as participants in the lower-to-middle mergers and acquisitions market has grown exponentially over the past several years, with investors increasingly seeking to co-invest with prominent or promising independent sponsors and sell-side advisers increasingly including independent sponsors in auctions and other competitive processes.
