05.2021

Moore & Van Allen (MVA) Director of Communications & Media Relations Amy Murphy Curlis is one of this year's recipients of The Charlotte Ledger 40 Over 40 Award. Every year since 2020, The Ledger has run its annual 40 Over 40 awards, which seek to honor those people in our community aged 40+ who are making Charlotte a better place. They're businesspeople, nonprofit leaders, volunteers and others from all over the city who are improving Charlotte in many different ways.

The Charlotte Ledger states, "Amy Murphy Curlis is a strategic communications executive for Moore & Van Allen's public affairs practice. Amy helps many influential leaders navigate highly complex challenges, positively improve their image and deliver desired business results. Her work frequently results in improving the image and reputation of the local community, the City of Charlotte and the Carolinas, and Amy has worked on dozens of city- and county-wide campaigns designed to improve health, well-being and pride in our community."
