March 2020

Moore & Van Allen faces the current challenges posed by the COVID-19 outbreak in solidarity with you - our clients and our communities. MVA lawyers, professionals and staff are here to support you during this time and remain committed to your success and well-being.

The Firm is following recommendations from the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the World Health Organization, as well as our state and local authorities to protect our employees, their families and our clients. We have implemented our Business Continuity Plan, which includes regular meetings of an interdisciplinary team to ensure we can continue to support the needs of our clients. We are also equipped with secure and sophisticated technological resources to allow for seamless remote working as needed and appropriate.

As we continue to monitor for risk in this evolving environment, we want to reiterate our commitment to our people, communities and clients. If you seek assistance in your own responses or preparations, or otherwise, we are prepared to support your needs.
