Charlotte Conflicts Counsel Sarah Byrne presented on The Ethics of Pro Bono Representations at the Pro Bono Institute's 2016 Annual Conference, held March 23-25 at the Capital Hilton in Washington, D.C. The conference drew hundreds of large law firm and corporate in-house legal department pro bono leaders from around the world to convene about lawyers' professional obligation to deliver pro bono services and increase access to justice. Stephanie Gryder also attended and the conference was concluded by dinner with pro bono advocate Justice Ruth Bader Ginsberg.
