Employment Seminar Covers Hot Topics

12.23.2016

MVA's Labor & Employment team will share strategies and suggestions related to wage and hour collective actions and electronic information at this year's annual Employment Update seminar. The discussion will focus on how to avoid common wage and hour pitfalls, prepare for a collective action lawsuit and manage electronic records.

To keep clients and prospects up-to-date on other hot topics, they will also have a panel discussion on the latest developments in the labor and employment field, such as; the recent spate of claims for breach of fiduciary duty under ERISA, the battle in Congress over the recent United States Supreme Court decision clarifying the timeliness of pay discrimination claims, and the new categories and requirements applicable to EEO-1 Form reporting.

The series of Employment Update seminars kicked off in September and were held in Charlotte and Research Triangle Park, North Carolina and Charleston, South Carolina.
