Charlotte Bankruptcy & Financial Restructuring Associate Gabe Mathless is one of eight individuals selected from across the United States to serve as a Frank Family Fellow by the Jewish Council for Public Affairs (JPCA). The Fellowship is a 10-month program for emerging leaders in Jewish community relations that focuses on public policy, advocacy, civic engagement and intergroup/interfaith relations.

The mission of the JCPA: JCPA is the hub of 16 national Jewish agencies and more than 125 local Jewish Community Relations Councils. Backed by an unparalleled capacity to mobilize grassroots Jewish activism, we educate and mobilize our network. For more information on the JPCA, Frank Family Leadership Institute, visit their website at JCPA.
